

Assignment Lec (11)

- (1) C Function to compute sum of the array elements using pointers.
- (2) C Function to find length of a given string using pointer.
- (3) C Function to read 10 integers into an array from user and print them in reversing order using pointers.
- (4) C function to get the value of the smallest element in array using pointers.
- (5) C function to copy all elements of an array into another array using pointers. The two arrays have the same length and types.
- (6) Write a C function to swap the contents of two arrays with the same length using pointers.
- (7) Given a string, create a new string made up of its last two letters, reversed and separated by a space, the word is "bat". Return string contains "t a".